ברוכות הבאות

Welcome to the Chai year of the Annual Kinus HaShluchos!

The 18th yahrzeit of the passing of Rebbetzin Chaya Mushka, a”h, is a milestone year for the Kinus. In terms of content and numbers, the Kinus HaShluchos has grown remarkably, and is in itself, evidence of a phenomenon that is real and exciting, but defies easy explanation.

With each successive year, Merkos Linyonei Chinuch, host of the Kinus, has had the privilege of witnessing the enthusiasm and participation in the Kinus grow. In response, Merkos has invested greater resources and attention to make the Kinus a rewarding event for participating Shluchos.

Specifically, the Kinus is a forum for introducing new ideas and for seeking creative solutions to various challenges and conundrums that arise in the life of Shlichus. Towards this end, the program is packed with presentations covering the entire gamut of Shlichus activities.

No less important, however, is the experience of spiritual growth and deepened hiskashrus with the Rebbe that the Kinus hopes to advance. The camaraderie among Shluchos, the experience of sheves achim gam yachad, have proven to be a tremendously bolstering and enriching benefit of the Kinus. It is our hope that each of you will leave this year's Kinus nurtured and fortified in both practical and spiritual terms, giving you the sustenance to grow and succeed in your respective Shlichus.

Many thanks to the Vaad HaKinus and to the Shluchos who participated in developing this year's Kinus program. They have devoted long hours and much detailed attention to make this a memorable Kinus.

The Program Guide

This program booklet also includes the Guest and Post-Seminary conferences' schedules, following the main Shluchos program.

All sessions and meals must begin and end on time; please be punctual.

All sessions will be held at Oholei Torah, located at 667 Eastern Parkway (a block away from 770), and at the Jewish Children's Museum, 792 Eastern Parkway, (corner of Kingston Ave).

The Gala Banquet will be held at the Brooklyn Marriott Hotel, located at 333 Adams Street in downtown Brooklyn.

Simultaneous translation into Hebrew will be available at all general sessions as well as the banquet; radios will be available in the lobby of Oholei Torah before each session.

Due to the ever-increasing number of Shluchos attending, we ask for your cooperation; please check your coats at the coatroom on the lower level of Oholei Torah, which will be staffed during all hours of the Kinus.

As a courtesy to your fellow Shluchos, please set your cell phones on vibrate throughout the general program and workshop sessions.

All Shluchos will receive an official ID card upon registration, plus a special bracelet. You will need to display your ID to gain admittance to all sessions and meals. The bracelet needs to be worn to gain access to the banquet.

Please wear your ID card throughout the entire Kinus (except Shabbos) as a way of introduction to your fellow Shluchos.

A private nursing station will be available at all times during the Kinus in the womens' lounge on the lower level.

During the Banquet, the "Golden Board Room" has been designated for nursing mothers. There you will be able to have your baby with you and still enjoy the banquet and program with a live video connection. You must reserve your seat in this room before the banquet.

Beginning Thursday evening through Sunday there will once again be an information/welcome booth in the lobby.

Round trip transportation from central Crown Heights locations will be provided for the banquet. Please see page 32 for details.

The Babysitting service will be in the large ballroom on the 2nd floor. This will enable us to properly care for your children in the best facilities. Babysitting will be available for pre-registered nursing babies only during the hours of the Kinus. Please remember that your baby may be unaccustomed to his/her new surroundings and, as a result, the babysitter may need your attention at any time during the day. Please bring along any supplies (diapers, bottles, toys, etc.) that your baby might require. For older children, please inquire about other options at the babysitting registration area.

The beautiful centerpieces that adorn your tables during the Kinus will be available for sale on a first come first serve basis for $20 each. See Brocha Friedman at Oholei Torah or call 718-902-5742.

Our sincere thanks to Mrs. Fay Kranz-Greene for elaborating the descriptive text for this year's program.

Our special thanks and sincere appreciation to the Vaad of Shluchos coordinating all aspects of the Kinus, together with the New York based committees. Their names appear at the end of this booklet.

The Hanholas HaKinus has arranged for the Rebbe's room to be open for Shluchos Thursday evening, 18 Shevat, from 9:00 to 10:30 pm and on Motzoei Shabbos, 20 Shevat, from 7:30 to 8:30 pm

Finally, please remember to sign the ש"ס in the lobby by Motzo'ei Shabbos. We wish you an enjoyable and inspiring Kinus!

Workshop Information

In Shluchos' work today, an increasing amount of time is spent on many diverse ideas, concepts, projects and programs. This year's workshops will highlight popular and effective examples of this dynamic diversity, giving Shluchos a more meaningful productive dialogue, new and innovative programs and systems for their mosdos.

All workshops will be held in the beautiful, conference rooms located on Oholei Torah's third floor and at the new Jewish Children's Museum.

Active Participation

Workshop participants will get ample opportunity for active exchange at the designated question-and-answer periods following each workshop. Kindly save your questions and comments for then and limit them to the subject matter.

There will also be workshop sessions offering opportunities for 'round table' discussion and sharing.

Evaluation Sheets and Raffles

Evaluation sheets will be distributed at the end of each day for your assessment of the day's events and your opinions on their quality and content. Your responses are important and needed: they allow us to pinpoint areas where improvement is needed, and to implement these at the next kinus.

As an incentive to complete these forms, a raffle for those who respond will be held each day for a complete set of audio tapes of that day's sessions.

Session Notes

- * Tapes of all sessions will be available each day at the cost of $3.00 per cassette. Please note the tape code of each session in this program booklet and quote it when buying tapes.
- * Workshop presenters are politely reminded to speak clearly into the microphone while presenting, and to repeat each question, allowing tape listeners to understand both questions and answers.
- * All workshop handouts will be available either at the session or at www.mychabad.org after the Kinus.

Topics of Discussion:

Jewish insights into parenting and relationship building.

Educating the child; only a means. What is the true goal in education?

Religious society, as well as modern orthodox and non observant groups.

Unconditional love; the love that turns a child into a great human being.

First to respect, then to educate.

Peace versus justice in the home.

Who's right? Who's wrong? Does it really matter?

How to raise a balanced, responsible child with a sense of belonging.

Sibling relationships; preparatory training for life.

Location: Conference Room #3, 3rd floor, Oholei Torah

4. ADULT EDUCATION (KHW24)

"YOU'RE TEACHING; ARE THEY LEARNING?"

You put your soul into your teaching, but how do you maximize what students are walking away with?

How can you help them apply what they've learned to their lives? What do our Rebbeim say about it?

What does cognitive psychology say about it?

This workshop addresses these questions; oriented towards adult education, but applicable to seminary and high school as well.

Presenter: Rabbi Berel Bell, Montreal, Canada

Location: New Ballroom, main floor, Ohelai Torah

5. THE CHEVRA KADISHA - DON'T BE AFRAID (KHW25)
